REBAR COATING SYSTEMS

For more than 30 years, Aegion Coating Services (ACS) has been the industry leader in coating application technology and has pioneered automated solutions for applying fusion bonded epoxy (FBE) to all sizes of rebar. Our rebar coating equipment represents decades of research, testing and field application. In addition to our rebar epoxy coating equipment, ACS provides engineering, construction and commissioning services for coating plants. We also provide maintenance, operations and quality training for plant personnel upon completion to ensure proper plant operation.

Aegion Coating Services makes it possible for companies to have quality epoxy coating lines constructed wherever a project may demand anywhere around the world. ACS lines have been in service for more than 25 years and are currently used in over 30 plants throughout the United States, Central America, South America, Asia, Europe, Africa and the Middle East.

Aegion Coating Services' rebar coating plants are constructed to meet or exceed the ASTM A775 Standard Specification for Epoxy-Coated Steel Reinforcing Bars. The ACS rebar coating line is the only custom turnkey rebar epoxy coating line manufactured commercially in the United States. The finished product from an ACS line meets the Epoxy Interest Group's (EIG) inspection standard.
